"Cove Junior School remains good"

Dear Parents,

We are very pleased to be able to share our Ofsted report with you today. Ofsted have high expectations for schools and so being judged as 'good' really is something to be celebrated.

Our Ofsted report states that 'teaching is highly effective' and that is not a comment which is used lightly. Our staff always put the needs of the children first and that is what makes our teaching so effective. Our strong team obviously worked very hard during the inspection day and when preparing the day before. What is so reassuring is that what the inspector saw was a 'usual' day for us and the children's books showed this high quality teaching over the rest of the year.

We are always 'Aiming High' and the actions which were identified in our report had already been identified with plans to address them. We will of course be continuing this work to ensure that we provide the best possible education for all of our children and families.

I am extremely proud of our children who make so much effort and work with such determination in a friendly and supportive way. My thanks go to them, our staff, parents and governors for making Cove Junior School such a happy and successful school.

Kind regards

Tracey Hickie
